W. W. HARRIS IN SLAP AT PARTY

Repudiates Republicanism in a Speech Delivered from Soapbox Today

W. W. Harris publicly bolted the Republican party from the "Soapbox Corner" rostrum this afternoon. As Harris was the choice of the party on one occasion for representative and on another for county supervisor, and had been looking for nomination for sheriff at this election, his desertion was the sensation of the day. His last prominent appearance as a Republican was when he was chairman of the territorial convention last April, when six delegates were elected to the national convention in Chicago.

Harris denounced Governor Frear for never having appointed a Hawaiian to office, also for his appointment of H. K. Bishop as superintendent of public works. He characterized Bishop as an outsider, whose selection by the governor was on the ground of his proficiency as a road-builder, although, as the speaker put it, he knew that roadmaking was no longer in the province of the superintendent of public works.

Harris took the stand after L. I. McCandless had made a second speech, having been put up by Barron to talk in Hawaiian after he had called in vain for a Republican champion.

"Louisiana is going Democratic, Louisiana is a sugar state," Link McCandless declaimed from the barrel of prosperity this afternoon. West Virginia was also going for Wilson, and the Middle West besides, according to the Democratic candidate for Congress. He laid greatest stress on Louisiana, because he was attempting to show his audience that the Democrats were not in favor of free sugar. As a clincher to this confutation he mentioned that the Democrats here passed a resolution against the Underwood bill, "and it was sent to Congress."

McCandless followed "Soapbox" Barron, after the latter had concluded his usual harangue with an invitation to some Republican to step up and "make a monkey of me," as he put it, "if you can." Besides his assurances that the next president would be Wilson, the congressional aspirant devoted his time to accusations of lying against the Republicans elected to office two years ago and those running for election now. The supervisors had lied in that they had not given the county good roads—"The Republicans have been in power for five years," he asserted, "and the roads are worse today than they were five years ago." After saying the morning paper today had lied by reporting that he was attacking the sugar industry, he warned everybody to look out for lies, as it was a lie on an election eve that defeated Blaine, and asked all to make up their minds now how they should vote, so that lies would not swerve them from the right course.

He was about stepping down when he suddenly remembered the Democratic promise of woman suffrage. If they elected a Democratic legislature, it would give votes to the women in county elections—only Congress could do so for territorial electors. "It's the women that are suffering," he said. "You men go out to your work and your wives and little babies stay home and suffer."

Barron sang the same song as before about Delegate Kahalo's failure to introduce a bill into Congress requiring that only citizen labor should be employed on public works.

Applause was very feeble when it was taken into account that one of the largest crowds yet was assembled. It

HILO BOAT CLUB GETS LEASE ON OLD WHARF

The Hilo Boat and Yacht Club last Saturday purchased from the land commissioner a fifteen-year lease on the old Hilo wharf, which is to be converted into a clubhouse for the members of the organization. The wharf lease was granted the club on the understanding that it is to be used for that specific purpose, and it can be used for that only. The rental is fixed at $10 per annum.

For a rental of $100 a year the big fish pond at Hilo was leased by the Territory to W. S. Wise, who, with H. V. Patten and others, has been conducting experiments in many varieties of fish and oysters, imported from the mainland. Three hundred acres of grazing land in the Molokai district, Kaula, were leased to William H. Rice, at $75 a year, and 630 acres of grazing land in Honouliuli, Molokai, were leased to A. M. Brown for an annual rental of $157.50.

came mostly from a small bunch of claqueurs with their noses around the barrel.

When McCandless was through, Barron again howled for a republican to mount the rostrum, and a negro claiming to be such got up only to be howled down after he had gesticulated and worked his lips for several minutes, without a sound from him being heard. Before eliminating himself, the would-be spellbinder shook his fists fiercely at the interrupters around the barrel. As the fellow wore a big raw scar on his forehead and a smaller one on his cheek, he looked like one more used to rough-house than forum.

100 OCTOGENARIANS LIVE ON WEST HAWAII

Hawaii probably holds the record for human longevity. In examining the registration lists Saturday evening, Henry O'Sullivan, chief clerk in the office of the Secretary of the Territory, discovered that more than 100 Hawaiians in West Hawaii are more than eighty years old, that a score are ninety or over and that the eldest of them all is a patriarch of 108 years. Several others are near the century mark.

All these are native Hawaiians who have resisted the vices of civilization and continue to lead the simple lives of their ancestors, out in the open air, on a diet consisting chiefly of fish and poi.

Oahu advanced on the board a quarter-point today, with sales of 175 shares in five unequal lots at 25.87 1-2. Ewa shows a decline of a quarter in four lots of 5 shares each, equally divided between recess and the board, at 28.25. McBryde sold down an eighth to 5.25 for 100 and 75 shares reported. No other sales of sugar stocks are listed. Hawaiian Pineapple is up half a point since Saturday, 10 shares at 44.75 and 50 at 45 being reported.

At the regular meeting of the Newcomers' Club, held at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, the subject "Jesus and Politics" proved to be the most interesting one that has ever been discussed by the members. Questions as to the different opinions of those present went around, and the general opinion seemed to be that Christians should take part in politics, but that in doing so, they should not bring defeat to the ends for which they happened to be striving through ignorance of the rules. The question of the church was also brought up and it was held that it should not take place in politics.

The newly organized Hawaii Camera Club will hold a meeting at the association building this evening at seven-thirty o'clock. All members who are interested in amateur photography are requested to be present. This club was organized about two weeks ago and has a large membership. Plans are being made to have one of the local photographers speak at the regular meetings from time to time.

HARBOR NOTES

Following the Sonoma the next mail from the mainland will arrive in the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina.

Strong head seas are declared responsible for the delay in arrival of the Oceanic liner Sonoma from San Francisco.

Two interisland arrivals at the port yesterday included the steamers Mikahala and the Kinau. Both vessels brought small cargoes.

A shipment of lumber has left San Francisco in the American schooner Muriel which vessel sailed from the coast for Honolulu yesterday.

The Norwegian steamship Guernsey, with five thousand tons Australian coal was hauled to the interisland plant this morning there to discharge.

The Chiyo Maru from Hongkong by the way of Japan ports will probably be dispatched for San Francisco on or about ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

According to a cable received at the local branch of the Merchants' Exchange, the British steamship Vestnarchar from Eleese arrived at Astoria on Sunday.

Four interisland steamers are on the berth to sail for island ports tomorrow. The Mikahala and Kinau carry passengers as well as freight and later mails.

Last Saturday afternoon and evening the Oahu Country Club was the scene of one of the pleasantest and most interesting entertainments ever given by the organization. A golf tournament in the afternoon proved a fitting forerunner for the dinner and staid social that was programmed for the evening.

A letter received from Circuit Judge W. J. Robinson states that he will leave San Francisco on the transport Sherman November 5, arriving in Honolulu about November 13. Judge Whitney will draw a venire of trial jurors returnable before the Third Judge on November 18, on which date the latter will begin the trial of criminal cases.

NOVEMBER 1904 FEBRUARY 1911

In 1904 Andrew C. Larsen of Sorenson & Larsen of Salt Lake City, Utah, was slowly dying of Bright's Disease. He was water-logged—having been tapped twice and the family physician told his partner that "It is as impossible for him to recover as it is to empty the ocean." His partner was advised to have him fix up his affairs. The treatment was changed to Fulton's Renal Compound. A few months later, March 31, 1905, patient was back to business, to the surprise of his physicians and everyone else.

As to permanence—we have been writing a few of these cases of several years ago on this point and we have a line from Larsen dated February 9, 1911, from which we quote:

"Yours of February 6th to hand. I am in perfect health and haven't had a sick day for many years. The compound cured me and did it right."

How can physicians and hospitals look over these things and permit patients with kidney disease to die on Digitalis, Nitro Glycerine, Basham's Mixture, etc., under which failure is admitted by the books. Physicians who add Fulton's Renal Compound to the heart, tonic and eliminative treatment they are already giving are getting results in many cases in which failure has been the rule.

Honolulu Drug Co. is local agent. Ask for pamphlet or write to John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco—advertisement.
